

Abstract

In this diploma work considered the issue to optimize the chain of digital technique stores «Alsen» and its affiliates for organization of high-speed and secure data communication network.

Scheme was developed and network equipment of famous D-Link company was chosen for this purpose. The necessary calculations were made: latency and frame transmission; WAN bandwidth and etc.

The feasibility study was given and life safety issues were examined.