Abstract

So urgent is the goal of creating a simulation model of the connection of two local networks based on IP PBX Asterisk software in the use of the application package Opnet Modeler v.14. Also designed the study to analyze the value of a numerical evaluation of the effectiveness and performance parameters of various networks.[1]