

Abstract

This project develops the organization of data in JSC "Sberbank", BC "Nurlita". Was performed: analysis of possible technologies used in the creation of a network, designing of data transmission on IP technology described model.

Were calculated throughput for various codecs, the waiting time of the frame, the bandwidth of the global network.

Developed the business plan of the graduation project and the problems of ensuring safety.