

Abstract

The diploma project is considering the possibility of organizing GPON technology in the neighborhood Kazakhfilm Almaty and presents an analysis of the tasks to build the network, and easy selection of the required equipment and calculated characteristics of the access network. The economic part of the calculated the capital investment and operating costs, the payback period is defined for this project. In the section "Safety" is calculated artificial and natural lighting.