

Annotation

The aim of the diploma project is a comparative analysis of the main electrical control systems EKG-4A excavator bucket . With the subsequent choice for upgrading existing machines without making significant changes in the design.

The result of innovation should be the reduction of energy consumption . With the subsequent decline in the cost of production.