ABSTRACT

Development and design of the site of the «Ai studio» children`s development center.

The planned information system developed in the language PHP, using the information storage database MySQL Server. We also consider the issue of security and privacy.

Considered and resolved the issues of life safety. Designed system of natural lighting, artificial lighting by use of coefficient.

The work produced a feasibility study for the project, calculated the value of the work, determined the price of intellectual labor, calculated the economic efficiency of the work performed and the level of profitability of this software.