

Annotation

This diploma project presents modernization of ATEC by non-nozzled capillary-porous bubbling foam generators. The principal heat-transfer scheme is calculated. The analysis of ventilation in turbine workshop, calculations of the system of zeroing of the induction motor were carried out are provided in the activity's safety and protection of labour section. In the economic part, the cost price of heat and electricity was calculated.