Annotation

In this final work according to the instructions of development of Web-site for the Finance Master company has been carried out. Web-site development aimed at expanding the customer base and raise the company's image. Projected application is developed on modern programming languages such as HTML, CSS with Adobe Dreamweaver software.

To create an effective Web-site have been investigated and identified the problem, sources of information and information base. When covering the stages of the design of the portal.

The paper describes the security measures for zhiznedeyatel of-staff; It presented a feasibility study, and calculated the efficiency of the developed