

Annotation

The proposed diploma project presents the development of software information system «Pharmacy».

The purpose of this diploma project is to create a program with convenient means of conducting drug reports in the pharmaceuticals.

The explanatory note defines the requirements for the program, its purpose and functions, describes the methodology of database design, built a database model.

A requirement specification and program text are presented in an appendix.