

Annotation

Herein by a diploma project an electronic textbook is worked out in the environment of Visual Studio .

Fifteen lectures, that is broken on six basic heads, laboratory works, intermediate tests, test questions, are examined in that, are realized in a project. A project is realized with the use of Visual Studio , in the environment of Visual Studio . For the worked out application calculations are executed on economic part and labour protection. The difference of Visual Studio from other applications consists in that Visual Studio is an instrument for creation of e-books.

Thus a book can include photos, video animation, diagram, different. Worked out in Visual Studio a textbook is a new modern electronic type of textbook. He is intended for all those, who applies electronic textbooks in our country.