

Annotation

In the course of this project, the system of control and accounting of energy resources will be developed and automated. The choice of equipment necessary for the implementation of the system is made. On the basis of technical means of "EMCOS Corporate" there are special instructions for work with the automated system of control and accounting of energy resources, and also calculation of technical characteristics of necessary parts is made. In the section "life Safety" in the section "life Safety " artificial lighting of one audience was carried out.