

Annotation

In this diploma project developed a unified management system of occupational health and safety management at the enterprise processing of oil emulsion. As part of the development, produced:

- analysis and identification of the most appropriate management models for the enterprise;
- risk management;
- methods of planning and continuous improvement of the system were introduced into the system;
- assessment of the effectiveness of investments in the implementation and development of the management system;
- assessment of changes in the general level of occupational health and safety at the enterprise.