

Annotation

This graduation project examines the efficiency, principle of operation, features of the heat pump and the replacement of the heat supply system of the Park of innovative technologies “Alatau” from the central heating system by an autonomous and environmentally friendly heat pump. In accordance with the calculations on the structural features of the building and climatic features of the city of Almaty, the necessary heat pump unit was chosen.