

Annotation

The purpose of this diploma project is a feasibility study of TPP with PSU in Western Kazakhstan. In the thermal part, the calculation of the thermal scheme of the gas turbine unit and the unit PSU-150. On the basis of these calculations, the main and auxiliary equipment of TPP are selected.

The project also considered the basics of life safety and calculated the economic efficiency of investments in this project.