Annotation

The theme of the diploma project is "Development of an air quality monitoring device based on LoRaWAN technologies".

The dissertation analyzes the problem of air quality in Kazakhstan and considers the Kazakhstan specification of LoRaWAN technology. The design, selection and programming of air quality control devices was demonstrated. Issues related to cost-effectiveness and environmental protection were also considered.