

Annotation

The diploma project presents the design of the press machine and the calculation of the strength of links.

The project provides justification for the design, calculation of the rotary-slide mechanism, kinematic analysis of the mechanism of the second and fourth-class pressing machine. Research of the rotary-slide mechanism of the pressing machine in the program.

In addition, the business plan of the project is carried out and issues of labor and environmental protection are considered.