

Summary

Graduation calculation is given to the development of a smooth handle control by a manipulator. Scientific, technical and operational issues were reviewed, software was created in the Arduino IDE program. The kinematic program of the manipulator is built, the general kinematic parameters are calculated. A multidimensional model has been compiled. For safety, always urgent parameters are calculated. The desirability of introducing the investigated alignment is evidenced by a technical and economic calculation.