

Annotation

This project analyzes the transition to the DVB-S2X satellite broadcasting standard. The study of the situation at this time on the example of domestic and foreign estimates, made theoretical and practical calculations of the coverage area and weak signal zones, the choice of equipment for modernization, considered the safety of life and labor protection in the workplace, the conclusion of economic costs and payback of the project.