

ANNOTATION

The theme of the graduation project: "Development of a computer model for accounting for oil production from the hole".

This graduation project has implemented the development of a computer model for accounting for oil production from the hole, the purpose of which is to implement a human-machine interface for remote operational monitoring and accounting of oil production data from the hole.

The graduation project was performed on the SimaticWinCC SCADA platform. To achieve the goal of the graduation project, such technologies as built-in Microsoft SQL server, Graphics Designer, Global Scripts, Tag Logging, Actions, Microsoft Excel available to everyone, as well as the VBA programming language (Visual Basic for Applications) were used.