

Annotation

In the diploma project, a secure Bank network was developed based on the FPSU-IP software package, VPN networks were designed based on the MPLS Protocol, and interfaces were configured on the router for connecting MPLS and transmitting packets by tags.

The Chapter on life safety describes the appropriate working conditions for employees. In the Chapter risk analysis and assessment, calculations were made for two parameters of the risk level before and after the application of measures to reduce the likelihood of threats.