

Annotation

This graduation project describes the main routes of gas pipelines and fire safety at gas stations. The main section shows the location, climatic conditions and general fire safety of the designed enterprise. Detailed accident information provided. The cause of the accident and the conditions for its development are analyzed. The analysis of emergency situations on gas pipelines. Physicomathematical models and calculation methods are presented.