

Annotation

In this diploma project, effective measures for the prevention of industrial injuries in the field of energy have been developed. As part of the development, the following were performed:

- analysis to identify the causes of occupational injuries;
- analysis of the dynamics of accidents;
- forecasting of accidents on the example of the company "Shygysenergotrade" LLP;
- analysis of damage from industrial injuries;
- evaluation of the effectiveness of investments made in the implementation and development of measures.