

Summary

The aim of the thesis project is to develop a physiognomic recognition and access system based on a Raspberry Pi single-board computer. Methods and algorithms for capturing and recognizing a face have been selected, and the selection of components has been carried out. The necessary software settings were made and the necessary scripts were written. The main parameters of safe work in the room were calculated and a business plan was drawn up for the projected facility.