ANNOTATION

In this dissertation , we consider the determination of the parameters of the spatial mechanism using the synthesis of the primary kinematic chain. In the work, the results of the synthesis of a spherical pairwise mechanism will be obtained, graphs of the synthesis results will be built, and a compiler program will be created. The main goal is to develop an online path planning algorithm with an integrated safety criterion that is able to plan real, safe paths in real time.