

Annotation

This dissertation is devoted to the analysis of the signal levels of the designed antennas at the deployment entrance of the base station with the Lampsite technology.

The paper presents the main characteristics of the technology “Lampsite”. Based on the developed working draft, such basic characteristics as bandwidth and latency for mobile users inside the Grand Park shopping mall were determined.