Annotation

This dissertation covered the core components of Kubernetes. We studied the third-party Istio solution for integration with Kubernetes, and the analysis of the balancing functionality, the uninterrupted deployment of services and traffic control algorithms.

A number of solutions are described in infrastructure automation, monitoring, and logging. And described a number of advantages and disadvantages in applying DevOps practices in the modern industry.