

ANNOTATION

This project has developed technical solutions for the use of gas turbine installations in the conditions of Almaty.

Increasing energy efficiency can be achieved by various methods: by optimizing the thermal scheme of the CHP, reducing the cost of electricity and heat for their own needs, replacing existing obsolete equipment or upgrading individual units of the CHP-1.